New View Strategies Invited to Speak at Four Conferences On Two Continents

[Milwaukee, WI, March 17, 2020] New View Strategies is pleased to announce that they have been invited to speak at four different conferences over the next four months. Five members from the team, Kerry Peters, Kim Congleton, Mark Rhodes, Cynthia Priebe, and Kim Dallefeld will lead a total of 15 sessions at conferences in both North America and Europe.

This high level of commitment is not new for New View Strategies, as Kim Congleton, Owner and COO explains. "Being involved at these leading events is part of our DNA and thus so very important to us. In fact, community involvement is one of our core values, so all our team members are dedicated to contributing to the community. We are very passionate about serving and sharing our knowledge with others."

The conferences range from a community-wide user conference (Community Summit Europe), which will be concurrent with a partner conference (extreme 365 Europe), to a deep-dive, expert-level event (Focus North America), to a long-standing principal conference for Microsoft SMB Partners (Directions North America). The sessions also cover a wide range of topics and levels, including in-depth reviews of financial setups, processes, and reporting in Dynamics 365 Business Central, inventory reconciliation in Business Central, warehouse automation, improving user adoption, and how to realize effective and productive training. The sessions to be presented are:

The Training Gap: How to Bridge It

“Personally, I’m thrilled to be helping the community like this,” shared Mark Rhodes, Chief Strategy Officer. “Since I spent so many years as the one who organized and lead some of these conferences, it’s wonderful to be on the other “side” and helping with the fantastic session lineups. We’re not only grateful for the opportunity to help our fellow community members – presenting drives us to stay abreast of the latest developments and continue improving our knowledge.”

Focus North America 2020 and Directions North America 2020 will both be held in May, while extreme365 Europe 2020 and Community Summit Europe 2020 were re-scheduled from earlier this month to late June due to concerns with the COVID-19 virus.
