Former Controller and Company President Robb Delprado Joins New View Strategies

[Milwaukee, WI, April 6, 2020] New View Strategies is pleased to announce that Robb Delprado, a 21-year veteran with Microsoft Dynamics NAV / Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, has joined the team, further expanding the variety of training classes available and process improvement project capabilities.

Like all members of the New View team, Robb has been a long-time user of Dynamics NAV / D365 Business Central, most recently as a Controller at AllTerra Central. Previously Robb was President with Western Data Systems, which was acquired by AllTerra Central in early 2018. Robb not only brings his perspective as a former user in a variety of roles, he is also a former channel partner, having led systems projects across a number of different industries and companies.

Kerry (Rosvold) Peters, CEO and Owner at New View Strategies, reflected on the team's expansion. "We are totally excited to have Robb joining the team. I've had the honor of working together with him for many years as part of the annual conference for the national-level user group for BC/NAV. I am so incredibly pleased to be adding another powerhouse trainer to the team whose passion is to show other people how to get every last drop of functionality and efficiency out of their software. Robb has an incredible depth of experience that he brings to our company, but his biggest asset is his 'big-as-Texas' heart. I know our customers and students will be in great hands when they get to work with Robb.

Robb is deeply experienced in most areas of Dynamics NAV / D365 Business Central, and will focus on leading classes and providing business process improvement leadership around finance, sales, and service topics. As a CPA, he is particularly knowledgeable in areas that are less well-known by many, such as purchasing, costing, fixed assets, depreciation, sales tax, and financial reporting.

"I've known many on the New View team for quite a while," shared Robb, "and have to say I am truly honored to join such a knowledgeable and caring group of professionals. Kerry Peters and Kim Congleton [COO and Owner] have assembled an incredible team of like-minded NAV/BC evangelists and I am enormously excited to work with them. I've longed for the opportunity to work with clients again and I look forward to collaborating with the NVS team as we continue to grow."

Robb is very familiar in the NAV/BC community, having presented over two dozen sessions across 14 events, dating back to Microsoft Convergence 2012. He served on the NAVUG Board of Advisors, is the Chair of the NAVUG Programming Committee, leads the local user groups in Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston, a three-time NAVUG Emerald Award winner, and was recognized with the NAVUG All-Star Award at the Community Summit N.A. 2019 conference.
