

#GetYourNewView

Greetings!

With so much going on in our world we decided to shift from a longer, periodic update to a shorter, weekly one, so you can stay abreast of current news and insights better. We'll share one or two items a week that you can digest in less than a minute. I trust you'll find value and inspiration to continue improving your use of Business Central / NAV, and as always, let us know any feedback or how we can help.

From our team to yours,

Kerry Peters
