

Production Planning

When you're ready to truly make your shop floor hum with the support of your Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central / NAV system, it's time to dive into the planning worksheet and managing your work centers. Let's take a detailed look into the Planning Worksheet and examine the parameters available and their impact on your scheduling. We'll take a look at different calculations and discuss options for making adjustments to achieve the schedules / outcomes you need. Then we'll walk through the different types of work centers and review different scenarios for using work center capacities to ensure you're using the system efficiently.

Class topics
